THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Chairman Ashby's Address and Call to Precinct, County and District Organizations.

He Charges the Voter to Nominate for Public Place and Favor Only Men of Approved Character.

Fort Worth, Tex, March 9. —Hon H. S. P. Ashby, chairman of the state central committee of the people's party, issued the following address and call to the members of his party to-day:

"To the officers and members of the people's party of Texas: At a meeting of the executive committee of the people's party held in the city of Dallas, Feb. 16, 1894, after due consideration and upon the advice of many leaders of the people's cause then present by the invitation of your committee. It was unanimously determined and resolved that the state convention of the people's party should be held June 20, 1894, and in this connection it was recommended that precinct meetings or conventions should be held Saturday, April 28, 1894, and county conventions for the purpose of sending delegates to the state convention, and district conventions when called should be held Saturday, May 5, 1894 The state central committee was thereupon authorized to select a place for holding the state convention, and required to make all the preliminary arrangements therefore, and give timely notice thereof.

The following basis of representation in the state conventions was fixed and agreed upon, to wit: Each county shall be entitled to one representative for every 100 votes and fraction thereof cast for Hon. T. L. Nugent for governor at the last general election, provided also, that every county in the state shall be entitled to at least one delegate.

The committee respectfully and earnestly recommend to our people the duty and necessity of thorough organization. Our people are therefore advised to hold nominating conventions as early as local surroundings and exigencies warrant in every precinct, county and district of the state, and to nominate a people's party candidate for every elective office from constable to governor, with the exception of district judges and judges of the other higher courts of the state. As to these it was the sense of said meeting that such officers should be elected for their known ability, integrity and fitness, and not because of partisan zeal or party fealty. Therefore where we cannot from our own ranks offer to the people the best man for such places we think it wise and proper to trust to the sense and patriotism of the individual to select by his vote the purest, wisest and best judge without regard to his political convictions or party affiliations.

Upon motion duly carried we recommend and invite all legal voters who indorse the principles of the people's party to participate with us in our conventions.

We congratulate the party and the people generally on the hopeful outlook for the speedy triumph at the polls of party reform. The masses are rapidly losing faith in the two old parties, and evidences are pouring in from every quarter that they are leaving both to affiliate with ours. The pipe laying and maneuvering and by play which now and has heretofore occupied the chief attention of democratic and republican representatives and senators in congress, and in state and national executive mansions, for party success regardless of the country's welfare and the people's interest has moved to the extreme of disgust multiplied thousands of honest democrats and republicans, who will not hesitate to rebuke by their votes the silly and wicked practices of the hour.

The American people have and still are passing through the darkest hours of financial and business depression, entailing upon labor more intense and widespread suffering than was ever before experienced in the history of our country. At such a time the people of a right expected harmony for the common good, and they demanded such prompt action as the highest wisdom and broadest patriotism could suggest, but instead thereof they have witnessed cowardice competing with gall, ignorance with folly and selfishness with sectionalism, with the results that fraud has been triumphant and monopoly fortified.

There is no unity of sentiment, except for spoils, in either of the old parties. A republican in Massachusetts is one thing, in Kansas and Colorado another and in Texas and the south still more variegated. A democrat in New York or Texas may be one thing or another in the same states and still quite different from each other or from the democrats of Ohio and other portions of the union.

Hence we appeal to the thinking people of the state whether either can perform for the people the true functions of political parties. There must and there will be new alignments along the lines of new issues now pressing for solution. And as to both the old parties it is the verdict of an ever increasing host; "They have done those things which they ought not to have done and have left undone those things which they ought to have done, and there is no health in them."

The people's party was not manufactured to order by political aspirants uniting for official plunder, but has grown out of the failures and delinquencies of both the old parties. It is the crystalized popular protest against wasted opportunities and violated pledges. Being young it is close to the people, and represents our common manhood, and stands for the rights of labor and individual capital; as against the encroachments of centralized wealth, and the ravishing spirit of monopoly. It is patient under criticism that it may be strengthened where it is weak if it so be, and fortified where it is strong. Its hope is reform, its purpose truth and its faith is in the people.

It recognizes that the rank and file of both of the old parties is composed of honest men who will follow the dictates of enlightened conscience, and beseeches them therefore in the interest of the the general welfare both state and national to investigate its declaration of principles, and in all sincerity it promises them in so far as it is given human foresight to promise, to nominate for public place and favor only men of approved character and popular sympathies, and in conclusion invites them to go with us to the fray that we, by their help may make sure the triumph of reason, and the victory of right. Respectfully submitted as by instructions required by the central committee.

H. S. P. Ashby,
Chairman."

THREE LOVERS.

Mental Anguish—A Romance in One Chapter Near Van Alstyne—Two Disconsolate Swains.

The Van Alstyne community has furnished its full quota of romantic incidents in the past few months and from present indications is determined to keep it up. South of Van Alstyne just over the Collin county line at the village of Altoga lived Miss Josie Munger, a pretty village belle. The beaux of the community were assiduous in their attentions to her. John Sandridge was engaged to her. So was Tom Moreland, so was a young man named Moore.

Moreland's suit was favored by the parents of Miss Munger and the wedding day was fixed for Sunday last. But fate, aided and abetted by John Sandridge, decreed otherwise. Yesterday Sandridge went to McKinney, secured license to marry his lady love, repaired to the home of her brother-in-law, where Miss Munger was visiting, and the twain departed. A little later they were married at the home of a mutual friend.

Moore, it seems, was never in the race. The father of the young lady is in the city today. He takes the matter philosophically and is apparently ready to give the young runaways his blessings whenever they shall return.—Sherman Register.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

THE Rock Island Railway Co. is noted for the persistance with which its officials try to induce emigration and build up the country through which its lines run. AN attempt was made to blow up the office of the Iron Clad Age, at Indianapolis, Ind., on the 11th inst. The paper is an Athiest publication and very pronounced in tone. It is supposed that the attempt to wreck its office is the result of over-zealous and misdirected religious enthusaism.

IT will be remembered that when Congressman Bailey made his speech at McKinney just after the special session he said that if the Dallas News was to endorse any of his actions he would at once doubt the correctness of his position and would shift to the other side of the question. Last Friday The News had a long editorial endorsing Mr. Baileys proposed bill making it illegal for congressmen to recommend individuals for appointments to federal positions. Now for the flop.

BOLTED!

Prof. Buck Walks Out From Under the Shadow of Corruption and Enters the Party of Progress.

HILLSBORO, Hill Co., Texas, March 9.—Prof. J. H. G. Buck, tax assessor of Hill county, and hitherto identified with the democratic party, has abandoned it and joined the populists. He was at one time democratic postmaster of Hillsboro and ran for his present office as a democratic candidate and was elected.

HILLSBORO, Hill Co., Tex., March 10.—Prof. J. H. G. Buck has given The News reporter the following reasons for leaving the democratic party:

"Determined to leave the democratic party I am unwilling for the causes that move me to be misrepresented and as I see in The News a willingness to give all sides a fair hearing I wish to make the following statements in it:

"This democratic party went before the American people in the year 1892 on distinct and emphatic announcements of principles and purposes. Among them was one asserting that the tariff was wrong in principle, unjust in operation, a fraud, a robbery, creating trusts, enforcing idleness, lowering wages and causing poverty to the many and great fortunes to the few; further declaring that if armed with power it would abolish it and relieve the people. The power was given by a vote which amazed the civilized world. Coming into place with every assurance that the people demanded the abolition of this tariff, and would be content with nothing less, they have with cowardice failed to abolish it. Instead of assembling congress and preceeding as his supporters required with the destruction of this infamy and other abuses the president began in the style of an old world monarch to dictate a policy by which the tariff was pushed aside, 5,000,000 voters who elected him were disregarded, and the money of the country, already wholly inadequate was cruelly lessened in volume. Under this betrayal of their trust the country has reached a condition of woe unparalleled in its history. Instead of the prosperity promised by their leaders and needed by the millions, a condition exists to-day unknown to the past, a condition of poverty, idleness and want so great as to tax al charitable energies to prevent the starvation of thousands. But why? Because cruel laws which have been foisted for thirty years upon the people by the republicans have been maintained and hardened by the democrats. The story is too long for narration now. suffice it to say that a party which thus acts forfeits my confidence and my support. A party which enlists the implacable enemies of its most cherished traditions and principles should not have the approval nor the votes of patriotic men. Finding no hope of relief from the woes that afflict us in anything Cleveland has done or is likely to do. I abjure his administration and flee elsewhere for affiliation with the friends of reform and right. In the people's party I find what I look for in vain in the national democracy so-called—a manly honest defense of popular rights, a clear cut expression of principles, a bold demand for the restoration of that of which they have been to-day despoiled under the deceitful forms and names of law. From this time forth I pledge to those outraged millions my best efforts in behalf of their cherished reforms. They are going my way. I will help them on ward all I can, and when they stop this side of my goal I will pass on and beacon them forward to what I deem a still higher and nobler emancipation from the grasp of oppression. I am in all its lengths and breadths and depths a single taxer. But the populists, the prohibitionists, the Knights of Labor, the homeless man, the landless man and the laboring man are alike the victims of the bondholding plutocrat, the protectionist, republican and the silver demonetizing democrat. For purposes of common defense against a common foe they should unite on grounds common to them all. They all want the restoration of their rights, and if united in efforts they, with the aid of patriotic democrats and republicans, can secure them. I can and will most sincerely contend for what they want and I will do more. I will claim man's right of access to what his creator gives him, and that without having to pay tribute to his fellow man for the privilege of its enjoyment."

A TAMMANY BOLT.

The most prominent sensation of Recent date in political circles is the recent resignation of Congressman Edward J. Dunphey, as a Tammany committeeman. In his resignation he charges Tammany leaders with many crimes of ballot box stuffing and importation of illegal votes. Mr. Dunphy is to be congratulated upon his bold move, yet it must be acknowledged that these charges have long since been made public by responsible parties outside of the democratic party, yet the "gang" has held sway not only in New York but in almost every large city of the Union. Every effort of reform is met with an avalanche of stuffed ballot boxes and votes of the imported and even the intimidated ignorance of our crowded municipalities.

When will the true American citizenship call a halt?

Avarice and greed is the power that rules our modern elections.

The extravagance of American lawmakers to day is simply appalling. Turn your eyes to the south west and you will see two congressmen who have left their place of duty to travel for their "health," notably, Congressman Wilson, author of the "tariff reform" bill and Congressman Bourk Cochran of New York City, a member of Tammany. Both of these gentlemen are traveling in special palace cars. Also Boss Croker of Tammany is in the same region with a palace car. All of them have their families. Croker was a guest, for several days of Gov. Hogg. During a recent campaign the latter drank publicly out of a pitcher and threatened to place railroad magnets in stripes all for the "love" of his constituency.

Democrats, where is your "Jeffersonian simplicity?"

No wonder that Congressman Bailey wrote back to his Farmersville friend and declared that it was hard to resist the temptation to forsake the people.

With this trend of events of political extravagance, how long will it be when congressmen and senators, elected by ballot box stuffing and intimidated votes, ask the government to furnish them and their families with palace cars to glide across the country at will, while millions of their fellowmen are asking for work and bread in a land of overproduction—of snobs?

DON'T KNOW THE POPULISTS.

The man who fancies the populists are going to take to the brush in hopeless discouragement when Texas democrats unite, don't know the populists. They are as a rule farmers—mostly democrats and some republicans—up to a recent day, who are thoroughly in earnest and willing to wait if need be, but fight on ever until reform in government comes. Some of their leaders may be demagogues, an art learned from professional politicians in the democratic or republican camp but most of the leaders are thoroughly sincere. It is not safe to despise or underestimate the populists.—Waco Daily Globe. (Dem.)

Thousands Afflicted with Chronic Catarrh Find Cure Free

In order to bring his great remedy for chronic catarrh in reach of everybody Dr. Hartman invented the following method: Anyone wishing to become one of his regular patients should send name and address, when complete directions for treatment will be sent free of charge. Each patient is expected to report once a month. At no time is any charge made. The medicines can be obtained at any drug store. The result has been a great beneficience to thousands of catarrh sufferers. The following is a sample case;

Patient, No. 1,627. Name, Lucius B. Cooper, of Biddle University, N. C. Commenced treatment December 16, 1893. Writes February 21, 1894; "I am thoroughly cured of my catarrh which has been troubling me for eight years. I waited two weeks after I stopped the medicine to be sure I was thoroughly cured. I think that I would be doing wrong to keep such a wonderful cure secret. I shall do whatever I can to make it known wherever I go. I do not know how to express my praise for Pe ru-na or thanks to you."

Anyone wishing to become a patient should send in his name and address at once, giving a list of the principal symptoms and the length of time the disease has run.

A BOOK SENT FREE.

A medical book, treating of chronic catarrh, la grippe, cold, cough, and consumption will be sent prepaid, for a short time by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co. of Columbus, Ohio.

ARTESIA HEALTH IS WEALTH.

The Hot Waters of Waco Will Furnish It.

WACO, Tex., March 12, 1894.
TO THE DEMOCRAT:

As a visitor to the Natatorio Sanatorium Institute of Waco Texas, the writer must acknowledge his inability to give a description that will do justice to this wonderful health resort. Space itself, in the columns of THE DEMOCRAT is inadequate to contain a minute detail thereof.

Several years ago, to a private citizen, is ascribed the honor of discovering artesian hot water in one of the cleanest, loveliest cities of Texas—Waco. A company of citizens, headed by Col. R. B. Parrott, Col. S. H. Pope and Mr. S. W. Slayden, was organized to carry out the conception of Col. Parrott to build a Sanatorium to be used as a public bathing place and to give treatment to the many forms of diseases which yield to the hot waters of the CENTRAL CITY. This laudable enterprise was completed and on Nov. 24, 1892, the building was dedicated to the public with appropriate ceremonies.

The well furnishing this institution has a depth of 1850 feet, and flows one-half million gallons of water, per day with a temperature of 103 deg. F.

The building is located on the east side of Fourth street, just south of the postoffice. It is spacious and comfortable; the latter the result of the unstinted application of modern appliances. There is a feeling of delightful ease on entering any department—office, waiting rooms, the various bath departments and pool rooms. The latter is 100x50 feet in size while the pool is 80x40 feet with a graded depth of 3 to 8 1 2 feet,

The following are the forms of treatment in use at the institute:

1. Massage.
2. Turkish bath.
3. Russian bath.
4. Wet sheet pack.
5. Fomentation medicated.
6. Roman bath.
7. Medicated bath.
8. Salt rub with spray.
9. Pool or tub and shampoo.
10. Cocoanut oil rub and ammonia.
11. Tub bath with attendant.
12. Vapor with needle.
13. Douche, medicated.
14. Acid sponge.
15. Alkaline sponge.
16. Alcohol sponge.
17. Tub bath.
18. Douche.
19. Alcohol rub.
20. Perfume rub.
21. Pool.

Two wards are in the building; one for the ladies and the other for gentlemen. Each ward contains rooms and appliances for the above forms of treatment, together with courteous attendants in waiting.

"Health is wealth" and to preserve it and even to obtain it, one can do no better than to visit this lovely city and receive the blessings of Artesia through the medium of the Waco Natatorio-Sanitorium Institute.

Coincident with its magic touch, the poisonous fangs of disease become palsied and relinquish their hold on the victim who, at once, begins to smile amid the bright beams of health. Life becomes worth living. The future stands with outstretched hand presenting the crown of hope to him who had previously walked in the shadows if disease, almost to the precipice of death!

One very important advantage to the sojourner here is the fact that he will not be robbed by excessive charges for medical treatment and hotel accommodations. Numerous hotels are found on every hand of firstclass accommodations at prices just as reasonable as can be obtained at the home of the visitor. Waco as stated before is a lovely city with broad avenues, electric car lines and many other conveniences not relished by its sister cities. Come to Waco. Press the fevered lips to its healing waters. Plunge into its crystal pool and then stroll out through broad avenues to the picturesque suburban surroundings and let the fresh pure atmosphere, enveloping the city, tinge the cheeks and you will leave its meritous precincts with a grateful heart.

THE MODERN WONDER.

Miss Annie Abbott of Georgia, on the evening of March 12th gave an exhibit at the opera house, of her wonderful power to an appreciative audience, who were all completely enchanted and bewildered.

She appeared unassumingly and favored the audience with a statement of her work.

The doctors of electricity, magnetism, spiritualism and many other isms had claimed her as a teacher in their respective domains, but she disclaimed them all and simply said she was not able to tell the source of her power—she thought it might be called a "nerve power."

She called upon the stage twelve citizens of McKinney, and had one light and one strong chair, a wooden stick about five feet long and 1 1-2 inches in diameter, two eggs and two silk handkerchiefs.

Several men held the small chair in their arms and when this lady touched the chair with the palm of her hand she was able to compel the holders to follow her.

She lightly held the wooden stick in her hands and one, nor five strong men could force the stick up nor down.

With five heavy men piled on the strong chair the most powerful man present could not lift it, but when she touched the chair with her palms she raised the great weight with the utmost ease.

She poised herself upon the point of one foot and held the stick, horizontally, in her hands; while five men vainly tried to force the stick forward or backward.

It was impossible to "force her to the wall."

Two men, each placed one hand on the wall and she lightly laid her hands on their hands — then the united strength of ten men pushing against her could not increase the light force of her hands.

She passed through the audience and permitted any person to test her power—some twenty or more persons tried her with the utmost satisfaction that she possessed more power than the whole audience combined.

With silk handkerchiefs—she would cover the hands of any person and permit them to catch her under the arms and lift her actual weight, which was little more than a hundred pounds.

Then she would touch the neck or face of the person who had just lifted her and ask them to lift again—with all their power, they could not move her—so long as she held her finger against the person lifting, it was impossible to raise her a particle.

To convince her audience that it required no effort on her part to lift 100, 500, or any number of pounds of weight She would let other persons put their hands on the weight and then when she merely touched their hands the weight would rise.

She astounded the people when she exercised her power at a distance.

She persuaded a boy to stand up in the house some forty feet distant from her

The boy was requested to expose his arms to his elbows, press them to his sides, point his hands and look toward her. Then a man was asked to lift the boy. After several tremendous efforts it was found impossible to raise him.

By placing a light glass cup upon her head or breast, her heart pulsation could be heard in any part of the house.

Dr. Wylie and other physicians examined her and said her temperature was 92 1 2 and her pulsations so rapid he could not count them.

The exercise of her power gave her no fatigue whatever while the strong men who were vainly trying to resist it were tumbling and rolling on the floor, five or six at a time. The boys felt the fun and yelled for glory when they saw lawyers, doctors, mechanics, merchants and all thrown and rolled in great heaps on the floor at the mere touch of a beautiful little woman.

In all this wonderful performance there was no slight of hand, no legerdemain, no hocus-pocus, no darkness, no music—all was open, fair and square and everybody was thoroughly convinced that neither Sampson, Goliath, Sondow nor Corbett were "in it."

It is a happy thing for society that this prodigious power is possessed by such an intelligent, communicative, gentle, attractive, beautiful, modest and unassuming little lady as Miss Abbott.

We are in receipt of the average fakir that crowds our thoroughfares, and from improvised pulpit and rostrum pours out his disgusting ignorance and egotism to credulous mankind, he could easily lead superstitious minds to dangerous deeds. But this modest personage disclaims anything supernatural and humbly accedes that all belongs to the universal domain of science yet unexplained.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ills.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by R. E. Bristol.

"Great Rock Island Route."

Is pleased with Texas and Texas people and hopes the feeling is reciprocal. Business with the new line since its opening has been satisfactory and we will continue to furnish the very best of service to Colorado, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and all points east of the Missouri river.

After all, the comfort of a railroad journey is made up of little things.

The track is smooth and the Pullman sleepers and free reclining chair cars are first-class and "up to date." In addition to the above, which are, of course, absolute necessities, the cars are lighted with gas and heated by steam from the engine. There is plenty of ice water in the tanks and a supply of clean towels in the toilet rooms. On top of it all, we have a lot of courteous employes who do not take it as an insult to be asked a civil question. As we say, these are some of the little things sometimes neglected as may have been your experience. We hope not, however, on the great "Rock Island Route."

We are also anxious to please at headquarters. If you are in need of information and cannot procure it readily of your nearest local agent, drop a line to the undersigned and we will do our best to answer it promptly.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—The printed copy of the tariff bill was given to the public to-day. It was done about 12 o'clock and there was an immense rush for the rooms of the finance committee for copies. The bill was laid before the full committee at that time. There was only twenty-five copies given out at first, this being the number printed. These were greedily snapped up by men interested in the bill, speculators, lobbyists and others of that class. More copies were finally procured, but these were soon exhausted.

Everybody scanned the new bill with great greediness. The new features about the bill are the imposition of suagr, coal, iron ore and lead tariffs and the numerous changes from a specificto an ad valorem system of impositions. There are as many opinions on the bill as there are schedules in it. The senators all agree that they think that with the articles above mentioned dealt by as they have been the bill will pass. On the outside there is joy among the sugar, iron ore, lead and coal lobbyists.

The democrats who favor the free list of the Wilson bill declare that the influence of the trusts that control these articles has been felt by the committee. The truth is that the committee was forced to make the concessions as heretofore shown in order to secure enough democratic votes to pass the bill. That is all there is in the tariff on coal, iron ore, lead and sugar.

The real fight on these articles is yet to come. At least this is the contention of the men who favor the Wilson bill, and that fight will come when the two bills as passed by the house and the senate come before the conference committee. As has been stated in these dispatches, that conference committee will be composed, as far as the democrats on it are concerned, of low tariff men and moreover of men who are opposed to a tax on coal, iron ore, lead and sugar.

When the numerous items dealt with in the bill are considered it may be said that there has been no material changes in the measure. There is an upward tendency in many parts of it. That is, the tariff is higher than fixed in the Wilson bill, but it is generally understood that these rates were fixed to get votes and will be readjusted to-morrow in the conference committee.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The senate to-day agreed that a vote should be taken on the Bland bill on Thursday at 2 o'clock, and this agreement was the result of the condition which the democrats got the republicans into Wednesday From that day the republicans have had their hands tied, and though yesterday they squirmed and tried to get united, begging and threatening as to what would be done in the future, they accomplished nothing. To-day Mr. Faulkner, who more than all the other democrats contributed to push ing the silver bill to engrossment and a third reading, was the first to come forward and make proposals to relieve his republican friends from their embarrassment.

The pitiable state of Messrs Hoar and Aldrich yesterday, the present situation being ascribed to their party negligence and partly to overconfidence in the scheme they had agreed to lead, was enough to move a man with less kiudness in his heart than Mr. Faulkner. So the West Virginian came forward to-day with the proposition that if the senate would agree to take a vote on some day certain, say Wednesday or Thursday, he would ask that amendments to the bill could be offered. It required unanimous consent under the rules for this to be done. If it were done, then the bill would be pushed back to the second reading stage, where it could be amended.

It was seen as soon as Mr. Faulkner had made his little speech that the republicans were anxious to get out of their hole in this way. For if they could get the privilege of offering amendments, though it is certain all of them would uncerimoniously voted they would appear before their constituents as having done all they were able to do, and their lapse in permitting the bill to pass the amendment stage would be forgotten. In fact they were willing to do anything that would distract attention from the terrible defeat they met with in their plan to delay action on this bill and remotely to cause delay in the passage of the tariff bill.

But while they were nodding their beaks in pleading approval of Mr. Faulkner's offer, Mr. Morgan objected to any such arrangement. This knocked in the head the Faulkner proposition, and then Senator Vilas offered to go on with his speech against the bill. It looked as if the conditions were not to be changed and that the republicans would be confined to fightinthe bill on the single motion to reconsider, a very weak reed to lean on in the matter of prolonging debate.

Then Mr. Harris arose, and in the emphatic manner characteristic of him made the following proposition; That the motion to reconsider be taken up Tuesday, the debate under the five minute rule should then take place, and the final vote be taken on Wednesday. This required unanimous consent and Mr Quay objected.

Again Mr. Vilas started to go ahead. There were whispered conferences among the democrats, and then Mr. Harris proposed that instead of a final vote being taken on Wednesday it should be taken on Thursday. This was agreed to no one objecting. So the final vote will take place at 2 o'clock, Thursday next, and the bill will then pass. There will be two motions preceding this, one to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed to engrossment and the third reading, and when this is defeated a motion will be made to reconsider. Both will be defeated. There will be no amendments offered under the agreement.

The only hope now left the men opposed to the measure is that the president will veto it. And of this there is the most serious doubts. It is argued that the fact that Mr. Vilas is opposing the bill is proof that the president is against it, but Mr. Lindsay of Kentucky and Mr. Mills of Texas both favor the bill, and by the same line of argument used in the Vilas case it can be argued that the president favors the bill, for all three are administration men and none disposed to embarrass Mr. Cleveland.

Jerry Simpson on Governor Lewelling.

The following is an extract from a speech of Hon. Jerry Simpson, delivered in congress a few ago.

"The governor of my state, a humane man, has issued a circular suggesting that those poor people ought not to be treated as criminals until they have committed some overt act, some offense against law; that they ought not to be arrested and treated as vagrants or criminals until they have committed some crime. Mr. Chairman, it is the laws of your country that have made these people tramps. The democrats say that the present condition results from the high protective tariff, building up monopolies and denying to labor access to opportunities for the production of wealth. The republicans say that this condition was brought about by the threat to abolish the protective tariff system and to establish free trade in this country; while the populists declare it is largely owing to the financial system which, since 1873, has deprived the nation of sufficient money to do business, and thereby has paralyzed business.

Mr. Chairman, whether the present condition is due to one of these causes or to another, makes no difference in this discussion. The facts are that we are in this condition, and that multitudes of our people are unable to find employment, and the peoples party, although they may not have discovered any great panacea that will cure all the evils with which society is afflicted, certainly do stand to-day as the friend of the poor people and are engaged in an earnest effort to better their condition. The governor of my state has simply attempted to put into practice the teaching of the Christian religion—the doctrine that all men are brothers in this world, the doctrine of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man; and as soon as he attempts to carry into effect the teaching of Christ, men call him a crank, and all the little seven by nine newspapers and all the little two-by-five politicians in the land jump onto him for it." [Laughter.]

S.S.S. CURES MALARIAL POISON

Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

PROSPECTUS
Of J. H. Davis' ("Cyclone") Great Book,
"A POLITICAL REVELATION."

This book is just what its title signifies. It treats of the rise and formation of our government, its constitution and policy, showing that the intention of the founders of our government was to inaugurate just such a system as is provided in the populist platform. It shows that corporations are the royal family of the United States, with more power to absorb the wealth of the people than English royalty. The author not only harmonizes the populist platform with the constitution, but he clearly proves that the populists hold the only constitutional theory on money, land and highways. It is a legal and historical review of the principles found in the populist platform, founding every principle on Blackstone and the common law of England, and supporting them by Jefferson, Madison, Clay, and the debates of scores of the framers of our constitution, while the constitution was being formed.

Mr. Davis shows clearly that the populists are the followers of Jefferson and Madison, and that their opponents are the followers of Hamilton and Morris. The volume contains more than a hundred pages of quotations from Jefferson, Madison, Clay, Randolph, Mason and others, proving our position to be strictly in conformity to the constitution.

It arms every man with facts of law and history by which he may overthrow every opponent, and disarm every lawyer who opposes us.

The subjects are treated in that legal, logical and convincing style peculiar to Mr. Davis alone. It will be a text book and standard work as long as the love of liberty exists in the human heart. The line of demarkation between aristocracy and democracy in government is completely drawn. Its principles are fundamental and eternal.

Every patriot should have a copy. Sent in clubs of five or more for $1.25 each. Single copy $1.35. Address all orders to
